What are you doing in your Season?

Ecclesiastes 3:1-4

"There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens: 2a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, 3a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, 4a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance,"

Rev. Dr. Charles F. Marshall, III

There is a time for everything. I encourage you to read the entire chapter 3 of Ecclesiastes.

Many children returned to school in August and the rest are returning after Labor Day weekend. President Joe Biden opted not to run for President which allowed Vice President Kamala Harris to seek the office of nomination of the Democratic Party. She became the first African American and Indian American woman to be nominated for president by a major party.

It is also the season in which a convicted felon, the former President Donald Trump has been nominated as president from the Republican Party.

A few months ago, the people around the world were isolating and trying to survive the Covid-19 pandemic.

Whether you are young, middle aged, or mature, you are in a season of life with specific desires and needs. The things that you are doing are affecting today's living and tomorrow's living. It also affects others as well as we share this world we call Earth.

Are you working toward good things or are you doing negative things or nothing? If you are doing negative things or nothing, you are missing something and causing hurt and harm to you and others.

In this season, always pray, use God's Word as the light unto your feet, and move forward with faith.
